

Ancient Egypt – Weekly Course for Adults

Daily Life in Ancient Egypt

Sources from ancient Egypt don't just tell us about tombs and death, we can learn a lot about life over 3000 years ago as well. Egyptians could write frankly, satirically, or even humorously providing a fascinating insight into an ancient society. In a course suitable for all we consider topics such as work, play, education, games, birth, death, love and more. You will read texts and view images from ancient Egypt in order to explore and evaluate the evidence for the daily life of individuals and the elite in ancient Egypt

5 MONDAYS FROM FEBRUARY 26TH 2024
1.45 – 4.15PM

WANSTEAD HOUSE,
21 THE GREEN, E11 2NT

5 mins walk from Wanstead Central line tube station.
Buses W12, W14, 66, 101, 145 and 308.

TUTOR: JOHN BILLMAN

Fee £52.50. Free for those on benefits.

All Welcome - No Prior experience required.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION: <https://www.wea.org.uk/courses> or 020 8989 8200
or email John.Billman@wea.ac.uk