

Wanstead Reading Group

Themed Reading in a Changed World

Do you enjoy reading and thinking about books?

Do you enjoy lively literary and cultural discussion?

If your answers to the above questions could be yes, come along and join a friendly group of people interested in talking and learning about literature with the help of an experienced tutor.

We will be focusing on novels with a satirical take on social change including Number 11 (Jonathan Coe) and The Power (Naomi Alderman)

We meet Wednesday evenings from 7.00-8.45 pm at Wanstead House (21 The Green, E11 2NT) starting Wednesday, 9th September 2020.

Eight sessions with approximate cost per of £8 per session.
Fee to be paid in advance after first free trial session.

For further details, including a full book list, please email David Andrews at davidandrews2001@aol.com or patsywhiteside@btinternet.com